

GLA response to the SIC public consultation

Key information

Publication type: General

Publication date: Thursday 25 January 2024

Contents

Overview

Overview

GLA Economics and London and Partners joint response to the Office for National Statistics consultation on the UK adoption of industrial classification of economic activity. We welcome the development of a more up-to-date industrial classification, and note that at a time of rapid technological change it has been more than 15 years since the current version was introduced.

Download the response

Back to table of contents